Method

TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Peel the banana, slice it into ½–¾ inch rounds and freeze them in a bag until solid, ideally the day before. 0:20
2. Halve the ripe avocado, remove the stone, scoop out the flesh and cut it into chunks. Freeze in a bag until solid. 1:05
3. Put the frozen avocado and banana in a food processor with the matcha powder and a splash of almond milk or water. 5:00
4. Add the maple syrup and process until silky smooth, stopping to scrape down the sides. 5:10
5. Scoop into bowls and eat straight away, sprinkled with black sesame seeds if you like. 5:25

> Tip Freeze the fruit the day before. Best eaten straight away; re-blend leftovers after a short thaw. Use water instead of almond milk to make it nut-free. Recipe30 says 2–3 serves; we count 2.
