Lean mince and an egg-and-milk custard give about 31 g of protein per serve along with iron, zinc and vitamin B12, and leaving out the bread keeps it lighter than the classic version.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat the oil in a pan and fry the chopped onion with the chillies, if using, and the garlic until nicely coloured. 0:00
2. Add the lean mince and salt and cook for about 10 minutes, breaking it up as it browns. 1:58
3. Stir in the turmeric and masala, then the chutney, and cook for another 10 minutes. 2:47
4. Heat the oven to 180°C. Spread the mince in a baking dish. Whisk the milk and eggs together, pour the custard over the mince and lay a few bay leaves on top. 4:49
5. Bake for about 30 minutes, until the custard has set. Serve with yellow rice or a salad. 6:04

> Tip Fatima leaves out the usual milk-soaked bread, which keeps it lighter. This serves 4; double everything for a larger dish. Taste the chutney first, as brands vary a lot in sweetness.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
