28 g protein and 6 g net carbs a serve: quick-cooked beef slices simmered in a plain tomato, garlic and oregano sauce, with no flour or sugar.

Diet notes: Low carb (6.4 g net carbs) but not keto: 59% of the energy is from fat, and keto meals get about 60% or more.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Finely chop the garlic. Put the oil in a frying pan over medium heat and add the garlic. 0:58
2. Add the tomato pulp. 1:46
3. Season with salt and pepper. Capers or parsley can go in now if you like (Sicily and Puglia add capers, Sicily olives too); the classic Neapolitan version has neither capers nor olives. 2:34
4. Lower the heat and simmer the sauce for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, cut any large slices of beef in half. 3:00
5. Lay the beef slices in the sauce and cook for 5 minutes. 3:23
6. Turn the slices over, cover and cook for 5 minutes more. 4:30
7. Add the oregano, turn off the heat and serve the beef with its sauce. 4:55

> Tip Ask the butcher for a cut that cooks fast (rump, topside); tougher cuts need a long, slow simmer instead. The extra sauce is traditionally mopped up with bread; a green salad keeps it lower in carbs.

The method is a summary in our words, in English — the video (in Italian) shows every step.
