Sweetened by dates, so each bar has under 2 g of added sugar (from the dark chocolate), and walnuts add plant omega-3 and fibre. They are rich, so one small bar is a serve.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Pulse the walnuts, dates, peanut butter, vanilla and kosher salt in a food processor for about a minute, until the mixture clumps around the blade. 0:12
2. Tip onto a lined tray and press into an even 8 inch square. Chill for about 20 minutes. 1:29
3. Cut the square down the middle into two 8 × 4 inch pieces. Brush a loaf tin with coconut oil, line it with baking paper and press one piece into the base. 2:51
4. Melt the chocolate with the coconut oil. Spread half over the first layer and chill for 10 minutes. 3:28
5. Lay the second date layer on top, spread over the rest of the chocolate, then scatter with chopped walnuts and a little flaky salt. 4:07
6. Chill for about 2 hours until very firm, then lift out and cut into small bars. 5:06

> Tip Makes about 16 small bars (our estimate; the cook cuts them into fingers or squares). Time includes about 2½ hours chilling. Keep them in the fridge.
