A quick, light way to start the day: two eggs give about 14 g protein per serve, the tomato and chilli add vitamin C, and the whole pan uses just a teaspoon of oil.

Diet notes: Low carb (6 g net carbs) but not keto: 57% of the energy is from fat, and keto meals get about 60% or more; Paleo with a swap: olive, avocado or coconut oil instead of the oil.

Ingredients 6 · SERVES 2

- [ ] 4 eggs
- [ ] 2 saladet (roma) tomatoes, diced
- [ ] ¼ onion, diced
- [ ] serrano chilli to taste (about 1), thinly sliced
- [ ] 1 tsp oil
- [ ] ½ tsp salt

Allergens found in the listed ingredients: Egg. Worked out from the ingredient list, not tested. Stock, sauces, spice mixes and other packaged foods can contain allergens, so always read the labels on what you buy. If you have a food allergy, don't rely on this.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Dice the tomatoes and onion and thinly slice the serrano chilli. 1:29
2. Crack the eggs into a bowl and beat until the whites and yolks are completely blended. 1:47
3. Heat the oil in a frying pan over medium heat for about 2 minutes. Add the onion and cook until it starts to turn translucent, turning the heat down to low. 2:35
4. Add the tomato and chilli and cook until the tomato softens and its juices start to bubble. Season with the salt. 3:38
5. Pour in the eggs and stir constantly so they don't stick. Turn off the heat as soon as the eggs are set and no longer runny, and serve. 4:22

> Tip Serves 2, 2 eggs each (our estimate; the cook doesn't say). Use serrano or jalapeño to taste, or pick the chilli out when serving if you like it mild. Good with warm corn tortillas.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
