Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. For the paste, blend the seeded dried chillies, shallots, garlic, fingerroot, salt and shrimp paste with just enough water to make it smooth. 0:50
2. Bring the stock to a simmer and poach the fish until just cooked. Lift it out, mash it finely with a fork or mortar and pestle, and return it to the pot with the curry paste. Bring to a boil. 3:07
3. Season with the fish sauce, palm sugar and tamarind, stirring until the sugar dissolves. 4:36
4. Add the papaya and carrot and simmer for about 8 minutes, until nearly tender, then add the napa cabbage and long beans for 2 minutes more. 6:26
5. Add the shrimp and cook for about 30 seconds, until just pink. Take off the heat, then taste and balance with lime juice and a touch more fish sauce. Serve with jasmine rice. 7:08

> Tip Use fish stock to make it pescatarian. For a vegetarian version use vegetable stock, miso instead of shrimp paste, soy sauce for fish sauce and tofu for the seafood. Other vegetables work too.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
