Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Stir the ground flaxseed into the water and leave for 5 minutes to thicken into a flax egg. Heat the oven to 350°F. 0:14
2. Blitz the rolled oats in a grinder or blender into a fine flour. 0:32
3. Drain and rinse the kidney beans, put them in a food processor and blend, scraping down the sides. 0:40
4. Add the flax egg, Greek yoghurt and peanut butter and blend until completely smooth. 1:22
5. Add the oat flour, cocoa, baking powder, vanilla and salt and blend again into a thick, smooth batter. 1:50
6. Scrape the batter into a bowl and stir in the monk fruit sweetener and half the chocolate chips. 2:12
7. Line a 8 inch square tin with baking paper, spread in the batter, scatter over the rest of the chips and bake for 25–28 minutes, until the centre is just firm. 2:48
8. Cool in the tin for 1–2 hours before lifting out and cutting into 6 brownies. 3:28

> Tip Blend the beans longer than you think for a smooth batter. Cut into 9 smaller squares if you prefer (about 8 g protein each), as the cook suggests.
