About 62 g protein and 8 g net carbs a serve: beef seared, then steamed tender with garlic, turmeric and coriander, with no flour, rice or sugar in the pot. Rich in zinc and vitamin B12.

Diet notes: Low carb (8 g net carbs) but not keto: 46% of the energy is from fat, and keto meals get about 60% or more; Paleo with a swap: olive, avocado or coconut oil instead of the vegetable oil.

Ingredients 12 · SERVES 4

- [ ] vegetable oil for frying the meat (about 4 tbsp counted as eaten)
- [ ] 2¼ lb boneless beef or veal, in large chunks
- [ ] 1 tsp salt

Allergens found in the listed ingredients: none. Worked out from the ingredient list, not tested. Stock, sauces, spice mixes and other packaged foods can contain allergens, so always read the labels on what you buy. If you have a food allergy, don't rely on this.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat a generous layer of oil in a deep frying pan until very hot. Add the beef chunks and fry, turning, until browned all over and slightly shrunk, about 5–8 minutes. 0:25
2. Lift the meat out of the oil into a pressure cooker. Add the salt, black pepper, ground coriander, turmeric and grated garlic, then tuck in the whole peeled onion and the whole head of garlic. 1:21
3. Pour in 1 large drinking glass of water (the cook's glass holds about 2 small tea glasses), lock the lid and cook on medium heat for 25–30 minutes, until the meat is tender and the water has been absorbed. 2:08
4. Release the pressure and open the pot. For the smoky Kabul-restaurant taste, set a glowing piece of charcoal in a small foil cup on the meat, drip a little oil onto it and cover for a few minutes. 2:35
5. Meanwhile, if you like, roast the long peppers directly over a gas flame until blistered and soft. 3:52
6. Remove the coal. Serve the kebab with the soft cooked onion and garlic, the roasted peppers, a squeeze of lemon, chilli flakes and a little black pepper. 4:20

> Tip In Kabul it is served on naan with sour unripe grapes; with a salad it stays low in carbs. Serves 4 is our estimate for 2¼ lb of meat. Without a pressure cooker, simmer covered until tender, adding water as needed.
