Keto Almond Dosa with Coconut Chutney

30 min · Serves 4 · 346 kcal a serve · Video 7:32 · HK's Keto & Low Carb Recipes

Vegetarian

Almond flour and mozzarella replace the rice-and-lentil batter, so a dosa with its chutney has about 5 g net carbs and no eggs, and the almonds make it rich in vitamin E.

Diet notes: Keto (5.1 g net carbs a serve); Gluten-free with a swap: Most hing (asafoetida) is cut with wheat flour; use a gluten-free brand or leave it out.

Allergens found in the listed ingredients: Gluten, Milk, Tree nuts, Mustard. Worked out from the ingredient list, not tested. Stock, sauces, spice mixes and other packaged foods can contain allergens, so always read the labels on what you buy. If you have a food allergy, don't rely on this.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Chutney: blend the coconut, ginger, green chilli and a little salt with 2 tbsp water to a coarse paste, adding a splash more water if it won't grind. Tip into a bowl. 0:56
2. Heat the coconut oil in a small pan, add the mustard seeds, dried red chilli, curry leaves and a pinch of hing. When the seeds pop, pour the hot oil over the chutney and stir in. 1:39
3. Dosa batter (one at a time): mix 2 tbsp almond flour, 2 tbsp grated mozzarella and 2 tbsp coconut milk with a pinch each of salt, cumin and hing. 2:36
4. Very lightly oil a non-stick pan over medium heat, pour in the batter and spread it out thin with the back of a spoon. 3:03
5. Cook until the underside is brown and crisp, the batter is cooked through and the edges lift from the pan, then fold it over. 3:18
6. Serve straight away with a quarter of the chutney, and repeat to make 4 dosas.

> Tip A serve is 1 dosa with a quarter of the chutney. Coconut flour won't work in place of the almond flour. Add extra cheese, or fill with a keto vegetable bhaji.
