Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat the oven to 325°F and grease an 8- or 9 inch springform pan with coconut oil spray. 2:27
2. Melt the butter in a large bowl and stir in the erythritol straight away (this cools it so it won't cook the eggs). 0:22
3. Add the ricotta, eggs, vanilla and stevia and mix until even, then add the coconut flour, cinnamon and baking powder and mix to a thick batter. 0:36
4. Spread the batter evenly in the pan. Bake 50–60 minutes, until firm and browned on top (a smaller, deeper pan needs the full hour). 2:36
5. Cool at least 10 minutes before slicing into 8. 4:41

> Tip Nut-free. Keeps up to 10 days in the fridge in an airtight container. The cooks suggest cream cheese frosting, or splitting it and filling with frosting for a layer cake; pumpkin pie spice can replace the cinnamon.
