Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Melt the peanut butter and butter together in the microwave (or a small pan) and stir until smooth. 0:33
2. Add the protein powder, powdered sweetener, almond flour, hemp seeds and the salt (if your peanut butter is unsalted). 1:09
3. Work everything together into a stiff dough, adding the caramel or vanilla extract. 2:15
4. Work the mini chocolate chips through the dough. 2:37
5. Warm a little dough between your hands, squeeze it together and roll into 1 inch balls — about 20. If it crumbles add a little oil; if it sticks add a little more almond flour. 2:45
6. Set the balls on a tray lined with wax or baking paper and refrigerate for about an hour to firm up. 3:46

> Tip Leave out the salt if your peanut butter is salted. Any nut butter works in place of peanut butter, and egg-white or plant protein can replace the whey.
