Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Finely zest the lemon with a microplane, then squeeze its juice. Set both aside. 0:47
2. In a medium saucepan combine the allulose and erythritol, water, allulose syrup and salt. Whisk over medium heat until dissolved into a clear syrup. 1:23
3. Meanwhile, put the sour cream in a bowl (one with a spout is handy) and set it in a larger bowl of ice water. 2:30
4. Take the syrup off the heat and whisk it into the sour cream, then whisk in the lemon juice and zest. 3:15
5. Leave it in the ice bath, stirring now and then, until it reads about 45°F — about 1 to 1½ hours. 3:56
6. Pour into a running ice cream maker and churn 30–60 minutes, until thick like soft serve. 4:25
7. Scrape into a container and freeze for 2–3 hours before scooping. 5:50

> Tip You need an ice cream maker. Using only erythritol makes it freeze too hard; the allulose keeps it scoopable. For a stronger lemon flavour, chill the base overnight before churning.
