Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. For the poaching broth, put about 4¼ cups of water in a wide pan with the halved onion, leek, bay leaves, allspice berries, thyme, lemon slices, the tablespoon of butter and some salt, and bring it to a gentle simmer. 0:50
2. For the sauce, melt the butter in a saucepan, whisk in the flour, then whisk in the milk and cream a little at a time. Let it simmer gently, whisking, until smooth and thickened. 2:50
3. Cut the cod into four even portions, salt lightly and lower them into the barely simmering broth. Cover and poach very gently, without boiling, until just opaque and starting to flake. 4:35
4. Season the sauce with salt and freshly grated nutmeg. 6:15
5. Grate the peeled hard-boiled eggs on the coarse side of a box grater and chop the parsley. 7:10
6. Lift the cod out of the broth and drain it. Fold the grated egg and most of the parsley into the hot sauce. 8:30
7. Serve the cod with plenty of egg sauce spooned over and the rest of the parsley on top. 9:40

> Tip Serves 4. Markus serves it with freshly boiled potatoes, the classic side; steamed green vegetables keep it lighter. The poaching broth is only for flavour and is not served.

The method is a summary in our words, in English — the video (in Swedish) shows every step.
