Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Add a little water at a time to the besan, stirring until every lump has dissolved, then add more water to make a smooth, pourable batter. 0:33
2. Stir in the spinach, cabbage, tomato, coriander, green chillies, ginger and salt. Add a splash more water if it is thick: the batter should pour but not be runny (about 1 cup water in all). 1:21
3. Heat a non-stick tawa or frying pan, grease it with a little oil and wipe off the excess. Let it cool slightly and keep the heat low, so the batter spreads. 2:44
4. Pour 2–3 tbsp of batter onto the tawa and spread it thinly with the back of a spoon. Turn the heat to medium and drizzle a little oil around and over the chilla. 3:18
5. Cook until golden underneath, loosen the edges, flip and cook the second side until golden. Cool the tawa a little between chillas and repeat to make about 7. 4:00

> Tip Makes about 7 chillas; we've counted 3 serves (our estimate). Add grated cauliflower or capsicum, or a pinch of red chilli powder. Serve with green coriander chutney.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
