Allergens found in the listed ingredients: none. Worked out from the ingredient list, not tested. Stock, sauces, spice mixes and other packaged foods can contain allergens, so always read the labels on what you buy. If you have a food allergy, don't rely on this.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Mix the salt, turmeric, ginger, saffron, black pepper, a little of the oil, the garlic, parsley and a splash of water. Rub it into the meat and leave 30 minutes (or overnight) while you trim the artichokes. 1:40
2. Fill a bowl with water and the lemon juice. Pull off the artichoke leaves, cut off the stem and tough green layer, scoop out the hairy choke with a spoon and drop each heart into the lemon water. 3:08
3. Dice part of the preserved lemon and cut the rest into strips for the top. 5:22
4. Heat the remaining oil in a tagine or heavy pot over medium heat. Add the meat (keep the leftover marinade), onion, tomato and diced preserved lemon and fry about 10 minutes, stirring. 6:15
5. Arrange the artichoke hearts over the meat, fill them and cover the top with peas, then add the olives, lemon strips and leftover marinade. Lower the heat and cook covered for about 1 hour, until the meat is tender. 7:30

> Tip Eat it with khobz bread, or on its own; it needs no added water as the vegetables release their juices. Frozen artichoke hearts (about 14 oz) save the trimming. Serves 6 is our estimate.
