Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat the oven to 350°F (325°F fan, 350 °F) and line a baking tray with baking paper.
2. Make a flax egg: stir the ground flaxseed into the 4 tbsp water and leave for 15 minutes to thicken. 0:40
3. Mix the flax egg with the brown sugar and olive oil, then work in the ground almonds until it comes together into a sticky dough. 1:08
4. Mix in the pecans, chocolate and salt (wet hands help), then roll into 12 tight balls and flatten each to a cookie about ½ inch thick on the tray. 3:45
5. Bake for 10–12 minutes, until golden at the edges. Cool completely on the tray (they firm up as they cool), then store in an airtight container. 6:42

> Tip Swap the pecans for pumpkin or sunflower seeds (the cook uses a mix of pecans and pumpkin seeds). A sprinkle of sea salt on top after baking is the cook's finish. Keeps about a week in an airtight tin.
