A big pot of vegetables in a turmeric and lemongrass broth, with one cup of coconut milk for four bowls: each serve gives about 5 g of fibre and more than half a day's vitamin C, mostly from the cabbage and chillies.

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Blend the shallots, garlic, lemongrass, soaked dried shrimps (with their water), belachan, red chillies and turmeric with a splash of water into a very fine paste. 0:20
2. Heat the oil in a pot and fry the paste until it dries a little and smells fragrant. 1:40
3. Add the carrot and long beans, stir briefly, then pour in the water and bring to the boil. 1:58
4. Add the jicama or turnip and the cabbage, cover and simmer about 10 minutes until the cabbage is soft and translucent. 2:36
5. Lower the heat so the soup is no longer boiling, then gently stir in the coconut milk so it doesn't split. Season with salt and sugar, add the tofu puffs and the sliced chillies, and serve with rice cakes (lontong) or rice. 3:40

> Tip Serves 4. Use 2 cups water for a thicker gravy. Any vegetables work; pan-fried firm tofu and tempeh are traditional and add protein. Oil, salt and sugar amounts are not given; adjust to taste.

The method is a summary in our words — the video shows every step.
