Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Rinse the goat with lime juice and water, rinse again well, drain and pat it dry with a cloth so it sears properly. 0:11
2. Heat a little oil in a very hot heavy pan and sear the goat 3–4 minutes a side without moving it. Lift it out and set aside. 0:36
3. In the same pan, cook the achiote oil and garlic paste for a few minutes, then add the red onion, green capsicum and some of the chopped coriander and season with salt, pepper, cumin and oregano. Let the refrito cook down. 1:21
4. Stir in the tomato purée and naranjilla juice, then pour in the beer and let the alcohol bubble off. 1:57
5. Return the goat to the sauce, add the coriander stems and simmer gently until the meat is very tender and the sauce thick (goat usually needs 1½–2 hours). 2:13
6. Finish with chopped coriander leaves and serve. 2:56

> Tip Serves 4 (our estimate from 2 lb goat). Lamb works too. In Ecuador it comes with yellow rice, fried ripe plantain and avocado; avocado and a salad keep it lighter. No naranjilla? Use a little lime juice.

The method is a summary in our words, in English — the video (in Spanish) shows every step.
