Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat the oven to 200 °C. Cut out the chicken's backbone with poultry shears (save it for stock), press the bird flat, pat dry and season well on both sides with salt and pepper. 0:25
2. Heat the oil in a heavy oven-safe frying pan over medium heat and sear the chicken skin-side down without moving it for about 8–10 minutes until deep golden and crisp. Flip and cook the other side for 5–10 minutes, then set it aside uncovered. 1:04
3. Lower the heat, melt half the butter until foamy, add the garlic and stir for about 30 seconds. Slowly whisk in the milk and bring to a gentle simmer. 1:28
4. Return the chicken, skin-side up, and roast until the thickest part of the breast reads 74 °C, roughly 15–40 minutes depending on size. 1:54
5. Rest the chicken on a board. Back on medium-low heat, whisk the remaining butter into the sauce a piece at a time until glossy. Cut the chicken into quarters and serve in the sauce. 2:18

> Tip In Georgia it's mopped up with crusty bread; for keto, serve with green beans, a leafy salad or cauliflower mash. Cook to temperature — a 1 kg bird took 15–20 minutes in the oven in the video.
