Packed with vegetables and cannellini beans, each serve gives about 11 g of protein and 5 g of fibre and is a good source of vitamin K and vitamin C. An olive-oil and basil pistou adds richness instead of cream.

Diet notes: Vegetarian with a vegetarian hard cheese instead of the parmesan cheese (traditionally made with animal rennet).

Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Heat 1 tbsp olive oil in a large pot over medium heat until shimmering. Add the leek, celery, carrot and ½ tsp salt and cook for 8–10 minutes until soft. Stir in the garlic for 30 seconds. 0:39
2. Add the vegetable broth and water and bring to a simmer. Add the pasta and cook for 5 minutes. 1:26
3. Add the green beans and cook for 3–5 minutes, until bright green and tender-crisp. 2:05
4. Stir in the zucchini, tomato and the cannellini beans with their liquid and simmer for about 3 minutes, until just tender. Turn off the heat. 2:41
5. For the pistou, blitz the basil, Parmesan, 80 ml olive oil and garlic in a food processor for about 15 seconds until smooth; season with pepper. 3:39
6. Ladle the soup into bowls and stir a generous spoonful of pistou into each. 4:16

> Tip Serves 6 (our estimate). Use vegetarian Parmesan-style cheese to keep it vegetarian, or leave the cheese out of the pistou for a vegan soup. Navy beans can replace cannellini.
