Method

TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Zest a lemon and set the zest aside. Put a handful of mint leaves in a heatproof jug and crush them lightly with a pestle to bruise them, without turning them into a paste. 1:15
2. Boil the kettle and wait until the water stops bubbling (about 203°F). Pour 2 cups over the mint and add 2 black tea bags (1 bag per 1 cup). Brew for 4 minutes, or 3 for a milder tea, then remove the bags. 1:58
3. Stir in the lemon zest, 2 tbsp lemon juice and 2–3 tsp sweetener. Taste and adjust. 2:47
4. Let it cool, then chill in the fridge for a few hours. 3:10
5. Fill two glasses with ice, strain the tea over it and garnish each with a lemon slice and a mint sprig. 3:16

> Tip Use any tea you like, such as green tea. HK's other two flavours: mash 1¾ oz blueberries in the jug before adding the water, or grate in a small piece of ginger and finish with lemon juice.
