Method TIMES = THE MOMENT IN THE VIDEO

1. Strip the dasheen leaves from the stems, peel the thin fibrous skin off the stems and cut them into lengths. Cut out the tip and centre vein of each leaf, slice the leaves into strips, then wash and drain. 2:28
2. Heat the oil in a saucepan over high heat and sauté the onion, garlic, pimento peppers and celery for about 2 minutes. 0:38
3. Add the okra, pumpkin, thyme, chadon beni and rosemary and cook 5 minutes, stirring now and then. 3:24
4. Add the dasheen leaves and stems, pour in the coconut milk and drop in the whole Scotch bonnet and the seasoned crab, if using. Bring to the boil, cover and simmer on medium 20–25 minutes until everything is soft. 4:35
5. Cool 10 minutes, lift out the hot pepper (and the crab) and swizzle or pulse with a hand blender until thick but still a little chunky. 7:40
6. Return to the heat with the crab, if using, stir in the butter and season with salt and black pepper. 8:45

> Tip Makes 8–10 portions. The crab is how they make it in the video (the written recipe leaves it out); without it the callaloo is vegetarian. Served in Trinidad with macaroni pie, rice and stewed chicken. Spinach can stand in for dasheen.
